This volume, of which a reprint is now presented to the public, is one of the most admirable productions that has recently been issued from the London press. It is marked by materialness and purity of sentiment, beauty and force of expression, and an elevated moral tone. No work can be more highly recommended for the family library, while brilliancy and vivacity will make it welcome to every reader of cultivated taste.

"They are thoughts we would wish every woman would think."

"A book of sound counsel—well written, true-hearted, and altogether practical. Whoever wishes to give valuable advice to a young lady may thank the author of "Woman's Thoughts' for means of doing so."

"We know of scarce any uninspired book which we think every woman wo has reached unsturity would be sure to read with nore profit."

"These are true and noble thoughts, and swe wish they might be pondered by all of her own sez. The inflamen of a few such writers would soon change the tone of society in regard to women, and greatly elevate the position of the dangsters of England and America."

WING PROCESS. to the healthful requirements of the human system through life, than any other one substance known to civilization.

This nourishment is made up of those properties in grain, economically known as saccharine matter, gluten. &c.

This saccharine matter contributes most of the nourishment, and contains, also, an active principle, which, when reselved into the stomech as a component of bread, aids digestion.

These great nourishment and invigorating properties of grain produce under the action of heat, and by the aid of certain ma chinery, a most powerful stimulant.

If such a product can be extracted from grain by artificia means, it indicates unmistakably the Influence which the succha-rine matter, or sugar property, in wheat has upon the bodily pow-ers of man when subjected to the natural chemical action of the boman stormach.

It seems, therefore, that this is an indispen grain as a nourishment, given to it for the most beneficent pur-pose, and consequently should be retained, as far as practicable, in all the preparations of grain for food.

WING'S process secures the highest amount of nutriment that has ever been produced from wheat.

In the preparation of the material, and in the manufacture of In the preparation of the material, and in the manufacture of WING'S FARINA CRACKERS, the life supporting principle of the grain remains, not deadened or injured, as in flour, by too close grinding, but retains its most active properties, so necessary to digestion, and the energizing force with which it imparts to the body a healthful growth or renewed vigor and rength.

The continually increasing demand for WING'S FARINA CRACKERS, with the commendatory remarks of parents, teachers and physicians, is strong proof of the healthful and beneficial results which have attended their use.

WING'S CRACKERS have a pleasant taste, act kindly upon the stomach, and for dyspeptics or the aged as well as sedentary and delicate persons generally, they are most scoeptable.

It is believed that there never has been anything introduced equal to WING'S FARINA CRACKERS as a healthful nourshment for children.

In purchasing, it should be borne in mind that there are no ge nume Farina Crackers made but by Mr. WING; his are the only crackers manufactured in the United States containing the true ualities of faring.

This Filter has three water ways; one for the entrance of the water, one fer the discharge of the sediment that may collect in the lower chamber, and one for the passage of the water up through the medium and out through the pipe at the top. The water atriking the under side of the medium at an angle, washes off all impurities. The medium used is a superior quality of Fur Felt, manufactured expressly for this use, and found by experiments made by scientific men, to be the best for filtering purposes, and obviates the objections that exit in all others, such as quartz, perous glass sand, &c., all of which retain some of the administrate and sediment, and soon become offensive and useless. Its superiority over the old reversing filters, may be seen from the fact that after once reversing, there is no possibility of procuring pure water, as the animalcule and sediment that has been forced through the seive in, with the quartz or sand, will be constantly passing out with the force from the opposite direction until the other side becomes chooled, when the same difficulty will arise. While this Filter, being so simple in its construction, is easily kept in order by the persons who use them.

GLANCE AT THIS STATEMENT OF FACTS.

GLANCE AT THIS STATEMENT OF FACTS.

The CROTON WATER, notwithstanding its comparative excellence, is, like other river water, full of decayed animal and vegetable matter. Visit the sources of the Groton River and tributaires, and other rivers waters, full of decayed animal and vegetable matter. Visit the sources of the Groton River and tributaires, and other causes of impurity in the water. Although the grosser portion of these inputities is retained, by settling, in the distributing reservoirs, yet the finer portions of decayed matter, the spawn of cels, the larve of insects and water line, escape into the distributing pipes. Plumbers of this city have often been called upon to remove the bodies of cels from the pipes in houses. A simple method of cleansing, like the natural process of percolation through rock and sand which causes the purity of Spring Water, seems to be desirable, and, in many instances, necessary for health. The desideration is supplied by the Disphragin Filter. It consists of a small metallic case, of pure material, of the ospecty of half a pint, incloring a medium of compressed quarter, hitted to attach to any cold water fancet in dwellings, and filters with sufficient rapidity for all domestic purposes, even for the washing of clothes.

The invention of W. H.

inted to attach to any cold water fancet in dwellings, and filters with sufficient rapidity for all domestic purposes, even for the washing of clothes.

The invention of W. H. Jennison, and improved and manufactral by W. M. Gibson, was extensively introduced during they are $67, *8, *3 and 50 in this city, and in the cities of Boson, 'fall-adelphis and Baltimore, and became a standard article of domestine. It has been swarded two Gold and three Sliver Medals, by the Am. Institute, Mass. Mech. Char. Associn, and by the Maryinal Institute. For a few years past, the manufacture of this valuable invention has been interrupted, owing to unavoidable accidental causes, but is now revived, with additional improvements in the Filter, by Mr. Gibson. Ro plan has yet been devised, and probably never will be, that can supersed the simple reversible principle of the Disphrasm Filter, without recourse to a complication of apparatus islable to get out of order. The Quartz Medium, which becomes an artificial rock when compressed in the Disphrasm Filter, is the purest and most durable material for the purpose of filtration. Mediums of felt, or other fibrous material, as used in other contrivance to filter water under pressure, are calculated to impair the quality of water, especially in the water, when the pursesent matter extracted from the Croton will speedily taint a fibrous medium. In the use of this Filter there is no friction nor or ordination of impaire metallic surfaces, to affect the water. If regularly reversed once a day, an operation requiring less than half a minute of time, the Filter will list many years. The Disphragm Filter Medium is made with different degrees of porenty, so as to be adapted to less pressures of water than that of the Croton, and can be made to operate with a portable apparants, or water cooler, as extensively used in Mexico and South America.

Fince reduced to Three Dellars, and stached without additional expense.
